About Us. The CEO is Tim Kaelin, an entrepreneur who has started successful companies, including DigitalSelect, the first DSL company on the east coast and Impact Analytics, a marketing company that delivers multiple billions of emails per year.

Our Mission. Implement a market driven solution to the expansion of renewable energy. Implement a Micro-networked grid, where anyone, anywhere can plug in and MAKE MONEY. Solve climate change completely by supplanting fossil fuels very rapidly.

As individuals and investors rush to enter the market, the price of energy must fall, well below that of fossil fuels. The magic of the market finally produces electric vehicle batteries that can be recharged within minutes (spurred by a potential $50B/year market).
