For a full-sized, fully spec'd metal guitar, that is quite something. All the latest guitar news, interviews, lessons, reviews, deals and more, direct to your inbox!

Is solar a good company to buy a guitar?

Solar sells guitars direct online and there's no return policy, so it's a bit of a risk. But Ola does such a fantastic job demonstrating the guitars and listing all the features, it gives me confidence I'll like it. He also has a great series of videos explaining the Evertune. Looks like lots of premium components in these models.

Does solar sell guitars that don't meet QC?

Solar sells guitars that don't meet QC in the outlet store. With no refund policy, I would avoid those. You must log in or register to reply here.

You CAN pick up a new USA made Gibson Tribute for $1300 US, a Fender American Performer for $1400 US, or a PRS S2 Standard for $1500 US. If you think that's a better value than this particular Solar guitar at $825 US, that's a valid opinion. I don't know what the prices of these cheapest American guitars might be in Europe.

It's a pretty solid guitar and it's great spec for the value. I prefer Ibanez necks much more than Solar, but no way to get SS frets and Evertune on an Ibanez for 1k. As I understood the fretboard issues were related to the covid period and it was due to combination of humid warehouse and limited QC in that period.
