Where will solar panels be installed in Herefordshire?

The proposed installation for more than 45,000 solar panels is to be built on fields near the village of Westhide, near Hereford. Residents and some councillors had objected to proposals over noise and possible flooding concerns. Councillors at Herefordshire Council approved the plans at a meeting on Wednesday.

Are solar panel installers based in Scotland?

Often solar panel installers who cover Scotland are actually based in England, resulting in higher prices and poor aftercare. Many of our clients tell us they have had quotes from roofers, sales companies and home improvements firms who don't specialise in solar and renewables.
