What is Cosmic View based on?

The movie starts with a fixed point in Chicago, then zooms out into the universe by factors of ten. And, before too long, you find yourself 100 million light years away. Based on Kees Boeke's 1957 book, Cosmic View, the 10-minute film offers what amounts to a breathtaking tour of the universe.

Where does the cosmic perspective come from?

The cosmic perspective comes from the frontiers of science, yet it's not solely the province of the scientist. The cosmic perspective belongs to everyone. The cosmic perspective is humble. The cosmic perspective is spiritual--even redemptive--but not religious. The cosmic perspective enables us to grasp, in the same thought, the large and the small.
